Organization Effected.

A branch of the Pocahontas Memorial Association was most successfully organized at a meeting held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the home of Mrs. David T. Williams, No. 210 East Franklin Street.

In the absence of Mrs. Thomas S. Beckett, who has charge of forming the Richmond branch, Mrs. Williams was made temporary chairman. Mrs. George A. Lyon was requested to act as secretary.

Ladies present were Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, Mrs. W. A. Chambers, Mrs. Warner Moore, Mrs. George A. Lyon, Mrs. David T. Williams, Miss Mary Randolph Thaw, Miss Alice Brook Thaw, Mrs. M. Allen Chambers, and Mrs. Richard L. Thaw. The branch association thus begins its existence with ten members and the prospect of a wide field of work. The association purposes not only to aid in erecting the Pocahontas monument at Jamestown Island, but to devise means for keeping the memory of the Indian princess's life and deeds constantly before the children of Virginia by means of suitable memorials in the schools.

A letter was read yesterday from Miss McLain, of Washington, president of the central organization, in which she urged that the women of Virginia do the work that has been so enthusiastically carried out in other States, where Pocahontas is not so inseparably connected with their history as in Virginia.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 26th, at 11 A. M. in the home of Mrs. Williams. Officers will be elected, and further details of organization perfected. All ladies interested in this work are invited to become members.

Mass-Meeting To-Day.

A mass-meeting of all interested in the work and purposes of the University of Richmond will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the hall of the House of Delegates.

The meeting is under the auspices of the Richmond Education Association, of which Mrs. L. B. Dashiell is acting president, during the absence from the city of Mrs. B. B. Munford, the president.

Mr. Joseph Bryan, rector of the board of visitors of the university, will preside over the meeting, and will introduce the speakers—Hon. A. C. Braxton, Professor S. C. Mitchell, and the Rev. Dr. W. W. Moore.

It is proposed at this meeting to outline a plan for the organization of a woman's auxiliary to the University of Richmond, and to appoint a committee of about two hundred representative women to make up such an auxiliary.

Auxiliary Meets.

The Branch R. Allen Auxiliary, Home for Incubates, met yesterday morning in Murphy's Annex.

It was decided to have an Easter sale, beginning Wednesday, March 27th, in the Bank of Commerce, on Broad Street. Donations of all kinds may be sent to the following ladies: Miss Sarah Allen, No. 415 West Grace Street; Mrs. John Murphy, The Chesterfield; Mrs. J. J. Corley, No. 61 West Grace Street; Mrs. Thomas Swain, No. 827 West Grace Street; Mrs. Paris, No. 502 1-2 West Grace Street; Mrs. Hiram Gates, No. 1009 West Grace Street; Mrs. H. C. Lynn, No. 413 West Grace Street; Mrs. John Trice, No. 488 East Grace Street; Mrs. W. E. Woody, No. 117 North Twenty-ninth Street; Mrs. W. A. Long, Home Place.

This auxiliary "has been recently formed to aid in the work of the general board and to raise funds for general repairs about the building. The officers are Miss Sallie Allen, president; Mrs. John Murphy, vice-president; Miss Fitz, secretary, and Mrs. John Trice, treasurer.

Ode to Licinius. (Horace II. x.)

TRANSLATED BY WILLIAM WATSON.

In this translation Watson catches the spirit and language of Horace in an admirable way.

Licinius, wouldst thou wisely steer
The pinnacle of thy soul,
Not always trust her without fear
Where deep-sea billows roll;
Nor, to the sheltered beach too near,
Risk shipwreck on the shoal.

Who sees in fortune's golden mean
All his desires comprised,
Midway the cot and court between
Hath well his life devised;
For riches, hath not envied been,
Nor, for their lack, despised.

Most rocks the pine that soars afar,
When leaves are tempest-whirled,
Direst the crash when turrets are
In dusty ruin hurled.
The thunder loveth best to scar
The bright brows of the world.

The steadfast mind, that to the end
Is fortune's victor still,
Hath yet a fear, though Fate befriend
A hope, though all seem ill.
Jove can at will the winter send,
Or call the spring at will.

Full oft the darkest day may be
Of morrows bright the sire,
His bow not everlastingly
Apollo bends in ire.
At times the silent Muses he
Wakes with his dulcet lyre.

When life's stairs roar and hem thee sore,
Be bold; naught else avails.
But when thy canvas swells before
Too proudly prospering gales,
For once be wise with coward's lore,
And timely reef thy sails.

of Church Hill Auxiliary, Retreat for the Sick.

Professional decorators will transform the hall into an African scene of beauty. Tall coconut palms and other tropical plants will be used in profusion and bright colored draperies will carry out the idea of Eastern splendor.

A genuine African visitor will arrive at 8:30 P. M. and will hold a reception for one hour. Much curiosity has been exhibited in this feature, but the identity of the stranger will not be made known until that time.

African fruits and other refreshments suggestive of the tropics will be served by a bevy of girls attired in white with gingham kerchiefs and aprons. Mrs. H. New, Mrs. Thomas Riddick and Mrs. Carter are in charge of this part of the program.

Candy for American tourists may also be had from Mrs. William Crump, Mrs. Harvey Davis and Mrs. B. A. Ford.

All the ladies of the board will assist in receiving, and will wear gingham aprons and caps.

Wilkinson-Omohundro.

The marriage of Miss Lillian Omohundro, daughter of Mrs. E. H. Omohundro, to Mr. Robert Guy Wilkinson, formerly of this city, but now of Tennessee, took place yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the "Langley" on East Franklin Street. Rev. J. O. Kirk, of Lakeside, officiated.

The parlors were prettily decorated with palms and cut-flowers. Mr. J. O. Kirk, Jr., was the best man, and only attendant.

The bride was handsomely gowned in a tailor-made suit of tan chiffon cloth, with hat and gloves to match. The ceremony, which was very quiet, was witnessed only by the immediate friends of the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson will leave in a few days for Chattanooga, Tenn., where they will make their home and where Mr. Wilkinson has his headquarters as representative of a business concern of New York.

Juniors Arrange Benefit.

The Junior Oakwood Memorial Association held a large and enthusiastic meeting in the home of the president, Mrs. C. W. Mastic, No. 212 East Broad Street, yesterday afternoon.

Much interest was shown in the Bostock benefit to be given under the auspices of the association on April 14th.

The ladies expect to have on exhibition a Teddy bear, which will be raffled during the day.

Tickets have been distributed to a large number of the members and also will be on sale at Craig's drug store, Twenty-eighth and Broad Streets, and Eanes's drug store, No. 2813 East Broad Street.

CHEATWOOD'S OPENING.

The Millinery Event of Main Street.

The spring and Easter millinery openings of the various retail houses each year are great fashion events—always mighty interesting to women.

One of the openings attracting the greatest attention in Richmond the present season will be the formal millinery opening of the W. A. Cheatwood store, at Nos. 1509-11-13 E. Main Street, to-morrow and Friday, March 21st and 22d.

It will be a veritable beauty show, and all the new-style creations direct from the fashion centers of New York and Paris will be exhibited in broadest variety.

Not only will the most elaborate hats be shown, but the simpler and less pretentious ones will be ready for the approval of the public.

One striking feature of the opening will be the exceedingly charming ready-to-wear hats that can be bought and worn within the same hour.

Besides the work of the master designers of New York City and Paris, many different styles from the Cheatwood Store's own workrooms may be seen.

A most significant part of the whole matter is that Mr. Cheatwood always sells millinery at much less than other stores. He says he is satisfied with small profits.

NEW POST-OFFICE.

Government Architects May Be Here To-Day.

Mr. Komper, the assistant supervising architect of the Treasury Department of the United States Government, is expected here to-day to look into the post-office situation. It is likely that he will be in the city several days.

A Richmond business man, who knows something about the conditions pertaining to the new post-office, says he is sure, from what he has heard, that no work will be done on the new building this year, and the mails will not be distributed from rented quarters until after the first of next year, and it may be some time after that.

A., thought it should have run, and as a result the fine was imposed. The horse belonged to Mr. E. L. Bemis.

The central committee of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities met yesterday at noon in the rooms of the Virginia Historical Society.

Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, who took the chair in the absence of the acting president, Mrs. J. Taylor Elyson, by her request, resigned it in favor of Mrs. William Ruffin Cox, who came in shortly after the opening of the meeting, and presided until its close. Those present were: Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, Mrs. W. R. Cox, Mrs. J. B. Lightfoot, Mrs. A. W. Garber, Mrs. James Alston Cabell, Mrs. Norton Savage, Mrs. S. H. Yonke, Mrs. Decatur Axtell, Mrs. Henry Taylor, Mrs. J. H. Southall, Mrs. W. S. Murray, Mrs. C. W. P. Brock, Mrs. Archer Anderson, Mrs. H. Theodore Elyson, Miss Mary B. Baughman, Mrs. G. Randolph Cannon, Mrs. Robert Wharton Watkins and Mrs. Alice M. Taylor.

Accept Invitation.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. A letter from Mr. J. Alston Cabell announcing his acceptance, with pleasure, of an invitation to act as representative of the association in receiving from the Colonial Dames of America the handsome wrought iron gates to be given to the association on April 26th, and to be used at the entrance into the A. P. V. A. grounds around the Colonial Dames' memorial building at Jamestown Island. A letter of acceptance from Mr. Benjamin Moorman, of Ben. Va., to read his poem at the Tercentenary Jamestown celebration on May 13th was read.

The corresponding secretary was requested to write Mrs. George W. Mayo a letter informing her of the consent of the association to the display in the Colonial Dames' exhibition at Jamestown of the crown of the Queen of the Pamunkey, the A. P. V. A. to be given credit for same.

Mrs. John B. Lightfoot, in her report as acting chairman of the Jamestown committee, said that it was thought the walls of the Colonial Dames' memorial building will be finished in about two weeks. She said that Messrs. Ragland and Slaughter, of this city, contractors for the D. A. R. Building and the resthouse, would erect at Jamestown the new resthouse, which will be sixteen by twenty-two feet. Assisted by a subcommittee from Williamsburg, Va., Mrs. Lightfoot will set out 2,000 ivy plants at the time of a visit she is to make to the island this week.

Mrs. R. W. Watkins, of the membership committee, reported two life members, Mrs. Julius A. Morris and Mrs. Decatur Axtell, who had been an annual member for some years. New annual members were Mrs. George M. Wilson, Mrs. Mary D. Burrall, Miss Ellen H. Kent, Mrs. Frank Woolfolk, Mrs. E. E. Cone and Mr. Frederick M. Colston, of Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Bagby Resigns.

The resignation of Mrs. George W. Bagby as chairman of the Jamestown committee was accepted by the association with the deepest regret, and only at her insistence that she desired such action taken on account of her health. The secretary was directed to write Mrs. Bagby and express to her the feeling of the association and the high appreciation felt for her unremitting services for years in behalf of Jamestown.

Mrs. John B. Lightfoot, the acting chairman, was afterward elected chairman of the Jamestown committee, and the services of a stenographer and typewriter were placed at her disposal when she should consider such service necessary.

A committee appointed to draw up resolutions of sympathy to be sent Mrs. J. Taylor Elyson on the death of her stepmother, Mrs. Jane McCarthy Hitchcock, included Mrs. Alice M. Tyler, Mrs. C. W. P. Brock and Miss M. B. Baughman.

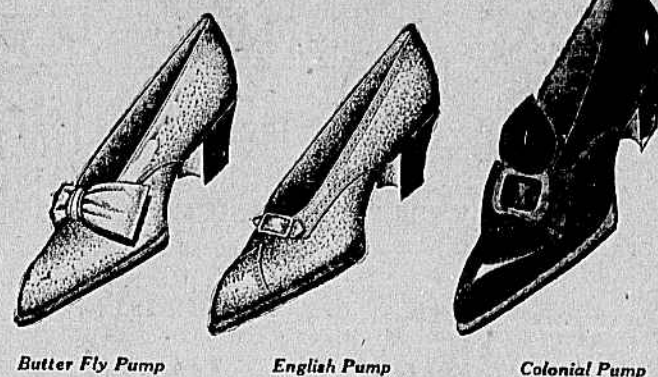

The next meeting of the association will be general, and will be held April 8th, at noon.
